ALMA MATER

Farewell to thee, dear high school days,
No more we'll sail thy sheltered bays,
We'll soon sail forth on life's high seas
Our flag of courage in the breeze.

Our captain now no more will guide
The ship that was his greatest pride.
The task is left to eager hands
To steer our ship to distant lands.

Your firm support upon the shore
Will spur us on—the conqueror.
And in the cold of raging storm
Our mem'ries here our hearts shall warm.

We'll steer a course that's straight and true
Until there rises to our view
The land where cherished hopes shall be
Fulfilled—the land of destiny.

CLASS SONG 1936A

Banners waving o'er us, as we march along,
Bravely standing before you, with our farewell song.
Thinking of the future, and of days behind.
Duty calls us onward, our careers to find.

Farewell, Alma Mater, sturdy in your might,
May thy lessons guide us, in the ways of right,
Brightest years of life are swiftly gliding by,
May these mem'ries linger beacons in our sky,

Farewell to our teachers, who have led us on,
May we keep their precepts, till the battle's won,
Farewell dear companions, praises we will sing,
Farewell our dear High School, honor we will bring.

CLASS SONG 1936B

Now we know our ship is here at anchor
And we know our maiden journey's done.
We will gather gladly
And sing of laurels won.
Sing a fond farewell to captains and to shipmates all.
Wide our ensigns wave so green and golden.
Evermore to us they shall be dear.
We will always think of our school days
As we sail along life's pathways
Into calms of distant bays.

Far and wide we'll spread our sails of knowledge,
And we'll head our ship into the realm.
We shall choose straight courses
Our hands upon the helm.
And each striving shipmate's log shall always tally right.
And the far off strands so green and golden
Evermore to us they shall be fair.
We will always think of our school days
As we sail along life's pathways.
Into calms of distant bays.

The High School World, under the supervision of Miss Helen Estes, made up a page in the Herald twice a week for the past year.

The paper was in charge of the Journalism class during the first semester. At the beginning of the second semester a staff of reporters and editors was chosen.

For the first time since the paper was originated, the headlining, copy-reading, proof-reading and page-makeup were done by the editorial board.

The organization attended the State Interscholastic Press Conference held at Bridgeport on May 2.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, composed of students elected from each home room and from each extra-curricular group, was reorganized this year under the direction of Miss McGuire, faculty adviser.

The council, working through committees, concerns itself with studying student needs, discussing student policies, inaugurating procedures, and executing plans dealing with the fulfillment of its aims.

The aims of the council are: 1. to foster school spirit; 2. to aid in shaping school policies; 3. to promote support of school activities; 4. to provide for students a means of affording participation in the responsibilities and privileges of a democracy as personified by the council; 5. to promote student cooperation in furthering the best interests of the school.

Members of the Hi-Y were sent as delegates to Y. M. C. A. Conference at Meriden and at Windsor. George Fischer and Ted Nelson were nominated from the club to the Torch Fellowship, a leaders' club.

The club members operated a refreshment stand at the school basketball games at the armory and after paying a concession to the school, planned a weekend outing to Camp Woodstock.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The Manchester High School orchestra, under the direction of G. Albert Pearson, has ended another eventful year. Besides playing for all assemblies, it assisted the dramatic clubs at their presentations. A Christmas Program was given with the joint choruses. The high point of their performance was at the spring concert given jointly with the two choruses on May 11.

A capacity audience was also present at the annual spring concert on May 11.

SOCK AND BUSKIN

Sock and Buskin completed another successful year with an excellent play, tournament, and a colorful pageant to its credit. "Huckleberry Finn," presented in November in honor of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Mark Twain, was an accurate dramatization of the novel. During March a one-act play tournament was held at the South Methodist church in which every member took part rehearsing and directing the productions themselves. These consisted of a fantasy, a folk-play, a satire, a realistic and a romantic tragedy, and a social, a realistic and a sentimental comedy. "The King of Sherwood," presented in the Educational Square in May, was an amusing comedy.

The climax of the year's activities was the annual initiatory dance held at the Country Club, June 12th.

BASKETBALL HOCKEY

GORDON McBRIDE

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

There has been opportunity in the Physical Education program for girls this year, as in the past, to participate in many varied types of activities. "Play for play's sake," was the pleasure derived from the sports program both in the regular "gym" classes and in the after school activities.

Regular gym classes in the fall were started with field hockey. Basketball introduced the winter program followed by athletic, clog, and tap dancing. Danish gymnastics, stunts, tumbling, and pyramid building followed the February vacation. Scores of the ping-pong and volley-ball tournaments in the spring were used to determine the winner of the banner. A feature of the swimming program in the second semester was a marathon swim in which five fundamental strokes were practiced.

The object of this year's intra-mural sports' program was "A team for every girl and every girl on a team." The tournaments resulted in the choosing of an all-star Blue and White team for each sport. The winner of the final game in field-hockey played the Hartford Hockey Club at Wethersfield. The basketball season ended with the White team victorious in the Blue and White competition; and the seniors held the title in the inter-class tournament. Volley-ball; courses in life-saving, both senior and junior; Leaders' class; a tennis tournament; baseball; and a "gym" assembly were other activities in which girls were able to earn additional points. The latter was a general review of the program of the entire year. The Dramatic and Art Departments were helpful in making it a finished entertainment.

HUMOR

SAYINGS OF WILL ROGERS

"I never made a great success, but I can drown out practically any quartet."

When applying for a passport, Rogers was asked, "Are you an American?"
"Well," replied Rogers, "we didn't come over on the Mayflower, but we was here to meet 'em when they landed."
"We have to have proof that you are an American Citizen."
"That was the first time I had ever been called on to prove that. But just off hand how was I going to prove that I was born in America so I said, 'Would you suggest waiting for a passport until I have done something to get into Who's Who? If you don't, I see my trip to Europe fading. I will be dead of old age before making that press sheet.' "

"Well, those old fellows in the old days just slipped some things in that Constitution to cover these very times, in fact, they almost made it fool proof, so due to their foresightedness no one we put into Congress can do a whole lot of damage."

"If this seems long and tiresome and nonsensical to you, why, never mind reading it. Just introduce it into Congress as a Bill, and they will pass it."

HERE AND THERE

Mr. Knapman: In what does glucose sugar have its origin, Storrs?
Storrs: Glue.

At the annual C. C. I. L. contest, when the Glee Club commenced to sing their selected number, "Lost In The Night," an uproar of laughter and several whispers were heard in the audience, "Lost and how!" Little did they realize that we were to be the proud possessors of that coveted cup for another season.

Office Notice—Lost: Two scotties on leashes. If found return to the Art Studio.

Mr. Hartwell told the history class one day: "You will find the Declaration of Independence in your appendix."

Smythe inquired in physics class, "If loadstone is something which has the power to attract, what is a girl?"

Girl: Mother may I have a nickel?
Mother: What for?
Girl: Teacher's going to make some candy.
Mother: For whom?
Girl: Daddy-Long-Legs.

A large gap had been left in the standing lines during a chorus rehearsal. "What's that for?" asked Mr. Pearson.
A quick-witted student replied, "Puter!"

GREETINGS AND GOOD WILL

We wish to take this medium to extend to you — and through you, to your parents, our heartiest congratulations — this is indeed a proud day for all of you.

But this is also a time, when a good many of you will have to leave home "perhaps" and try to make a place for yourself in the world — May your aspirations — and the hopes of your parents come through. Honor your parents — then you will honor the school that graduated you. And your City and Country will be proud of you.
